

GAV & Associates Brings Projects to Life

Since 1998, GAV & Associates Inc. has provided architecture, design and planning services for a variety of projects that vary in scale, use and complexity. They provide award-winning design services for commercial, residential, industrial, assembly, educational and historic revitalization architecture. With a diverse portfolio, the company is committed to excellence as they elevate their clients' projects.

As a leader in design and construction document production throughout southeast Michigan and other states, GAV & Associates takes pride in working with contractors, developers, business owners and homeowners. As a team, they always deliver excellence in design, on time and on budget. The team focuses on bringing projects to life, while upholding client relationships. GAV & Associates understands that good relationships and collaboration are imperative for a great design.

The company has been a MIM member for approximately 22 years, constantly participating and growing with the organization. "Working with the Masonry Institute of Michigan has proven to be one of GAV's most beneficial relationships of all," said Ghassan Abdelnour, CEO, GAV & Associates. "Our company has benefited greatly from the vast networking, relationships, and consultants that MIM has brought us. The Masonry Institute of Michigan is more than just an organization, it is the people that make it up."

One of Ghassan's favorite things about the MIM is being able to learn from and work with the wonderful people in the community. "We're able to work easily with the members of MIM as they help guide and assist the use of masonry in our projects."

For anyone new to the MIM community, Ghassan advises that they take full advantage of the vast connections and guidance that the organization offers. "Being a part of MIM and the AEC industry has helped inform, connect and elevate our firm."
